BRIEF MENTION.

Judge Thomson has made a fine impre-sion on our people generally as a Judge The work of converting the lower story of the Centennial House into store rooms is nearing completion.

We are indebted to our-young friend, H. G. Scudday, Esq., for the report of the proceedings of Court published to-day. The whole of the Anderson delegation in the House voted for the Blue Ridge Railroad Bill, except Itr. John Wilson, of Wil-The depot at this place is undergoing con siderable repairs. The offices have been neatly fitted up, and now present quite a respectable appearance. The Grand Jury made their presentment to the Court on Tuesday evening, and were then dismissed. It was unusually brief, and contained nothing of general interest. We are indebted to Capt. Joshua Burriss, of the Dark Corner township, for a water-melon, presented to us last Thursday. He preserved it by burying it in cotton seeds. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were busy days for our merchants. Several hundred bales of cotton were sold by the farmers and thousands of groceries by the mer-Mrs. Pinkind, the accomplished music teacher in the Collegiate Institute, will give

The crowds in town on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were simply tremendous. The public square was jammed with vehicles during the greater part of the day. While there was considerable drinking the order was good, and very few arrests were made by the police.

We direct attention to the advertisement of E. B. Benson & Co., of Hartwell, Ga. They have a fine trade already in Georgia, and making strenuous efforts to induce our people across the Savannah to trade with them. Those who go to Hartwell ought certainly to give them a call.

It would be a hard matter to find a harder-worked set of men than the train handsconductors, engineers and all-on the Anderson Branch Railroad. Think of working eighteen hours out of the twenty-four, day after day, week after week, and month after month, and you can form some faint idea which were sleeping three small children, of their hard lot.

The entertainment by the South Carolina Minstrels on Wednesday, 11th instant, in Masonic Hall, was all that could have been desired in that line of amusement. The young men all performed their parts admirably, considering that it was the first appearance of many of them on the stage. Encouraged by the large audience with which they were favored on their first appearance before the public, they will give other entertainments of a similar character at an early day.

The sportsmen of Columbia have organized a shooting club to protect the birds, game and fishes, and to prevent their wanton destruction in the improper seasons of the year. The club will take measures to have every violation of the fish and game laws reported to the proper authorities, and the offender brought to punishment. This is a move in the right direction, and one we hope that will be followed by the sportsmen of other towns and cities in the State. The fish and game laws are good ones, and should be vigorously inforced.

The most important case before the Court at the present session, and the one that is as we go to press. There are six parties under indictment, all of whom are represented by able counsel, while the Solicitor is assisted in the prosecution by Mr. Orr.

Your mouth. I am respectfully,

There are at least one hundred witnesses to be examined, which, with the time that will

The killing of the colored boy, Charles edge. Sullivan, in the upper edge of Abbaville County on Saturday, the 7th instant, which was claimed by his brother, James Sullivan, to have been done by the accidental discharge of a gun in the deceased's hands, and who was buried before an inquest was held, aroused suspicious in the minds of meny of the citizens of the neighborhood, who reported the case to Coroner Cochran. On who was buried before an inquest was held,

THE INTELLIGENCER. Thursday last the body was disinterred and examined by a physician, when it was found to contain 29 shot-10 in the body and 19 in the arm. The wounds were such as could not have been inflicted by a gun in his own hands, and the jury of inquest, after carefully investigating the whole matter, returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from wounds inflicted by a deadly weapon in the hands of his brother. James Sullivan, who has been arrested and odged in Abbeville jail.

There has been a very suspicious character for the past week or ten days in Rock Mills Township. He is a white man of superior intelligence and extensive information, is fifty or sixty years old, and claims to hail originally from New York, but says that he has lived in the South for many years, and that he fought in the late civil war on the Confederate side. When he first came into this county he deported himself becomingly, but soon began associating with negroes and sleeping in their houses. He makes it a point to ascertain, as far as possible, the political opinions of every white man he meets, and it is believed that he is endeavoring to inflame the minds of the colored people against their white neighbors. He has every appearance of a professional tramp, and everywhere imposes upon the liberal-hearted people. He is evidently a bad man, and should be closely watched

Circuit Court.

The February term of the Court of Gensral Sessions and Commor Pleas convened at this place on Monday last, Judge Thomas Thomson presiding. The grand jury was duly organized, with B. D. Dean as fore-

The Judge proceeded to charge the grand ury upon the different bills which had been prepared by the Solicitor, defining the nature of the various offenses charged-the amount of testimony necessary upon which to find a true bill—which constituted the greater part of his charge. In reference to a charge of an assault with intent to kill, he said that the jury must be satisfied that in the event death had ensued, it would have been murder before the offense could be completed. Upon the general duties of the grand jury the Judge then charged, in substance, as follows: That they must examine carefully the various public offices of the County, and ascertain the manner in which they are kept, and that if so desired they could procure the assistance of the officers or their clerks; that there was class of duties which, if they did not per form, would be left undone—namely, she internal police of the State. He enumerated the various subjects embraced in the Revised Statutes under that head, dwelling at length on the offense of gambling and granting licenses by grand juries. The offense of gambling, he said, was one not easily detected, as it was principally done in private places, but that when it was discovered it should be suppresed by the law. He said that the jury should carefully consider all applications for license; that they should have a view to the general interests of the country, and not to the interests of private individuals; that if they thought that licensing the sale of liquors in any particular locality would lead to disturbances of the peace, and would be productive of harm, that then they should consider the interests of that locality paramount to the interests of the applicant and refuse the license. Carrying deadly weapons conceal-ed about the person, he said, is an evil of such magnitude as demanded legislation looking to its suppression. The young men, and to a great extent the old men of our ountry, indulge in this practice too freely. While holding Court in Columbia, he said, a young man was examined as a witness, when he said that he was in the habit of carrying a pistol. When questioned about it, he said that he did not have an associate who did not carry a pistol about his person. He said he was gratified to see that the Leg-

While at all times we offer great bargains to our many customers, we shall adopt for this year the metropolitan idea of hav ing "Special Sales in certain Departments." We have no doubt that it will be successful. for the ladies will soon find out that if we have a "Special Sale" in Embroideries, for instance, for one week, the low prices for the time being are "Special," and much be low regular value. It thus creates a mu tual interest, for while we are selling those goods at "Special Prices," we will sell twice as many of them; and by buying twice as much as we used to, we certainly will buy cheaper. Our inaugural sale will last thirty days, beginning February 1st, and in order to introduce this system will be exception ally grand, our whole stock of Winter Goods are to be offered-in spite of the recent advances-at lower prices than ever, and we hope our many friends will come and look, if nothing more.

For the coming season, besides an IM-MENSE STOCK OF DRY 300DS, we shall have a line of Ladies', Misses' and Childrens' SHOES that is unsurpassed in this State, the orders for which we have given already, as each pair is made to our order and warranted.

We shall also have a complete line of samples of Cloths and Cassimeres-up to the very finest-and make to order all kinds of garments for gentlemen in the very la test styles.

Our stock of Millinery Goods shall be complete, thus supplying a long needed want-an effort that we know the ladie will appreciate. Everything that is desirable and new, we intend to show it, and our stock shall be first-class in every particular, and our prices always the very lowest.
